

The necessity for every Canadian to make HEAVY SACRIFICES in the successful prosecution of the war was emphasized by Sir Henry Drayton in a recent speech in connection with the war savings campaign. He said that there was no doubt as to the final success of the campaign but stressed that some of the most important things at present was to bring home to every citizen of Canada that this war is Canada's war and cannot be won unless everyone goes to the limit in making sacrifices. "IT IS OUR TASK, OUR DUTY, THAT WE MAKE SACRIFICES, BUT ALL TOO FEW HAVE MADE SACRIFICES TO DATE. We have to get a greater devotion, an inflexible determination that freedom shall not fall, if Canada's part in this war is to be truly played" . . . Sir Henry presented figures which showed the great field of financial help which can be tapped. In Canada there are some 3,800,000 savings bank depositors whose accounts are under $1,000. These represent 92 per cent of the total savings bank depositors in the Dominion and their accounts aggregate about $454,900,000. The total of the accounts ranging from $1,000 to $5,000 is close to six millions and the accounts of these two brackets of depositors total over 60 per cent of Canada's total savings bank deposits. To these depositors the War Savings campaign offers a great opportunity, national as well as financial. Instead of a small interest rate from the banks the War Savings rate is three per cent with Canada herself as the security. "While there are some families which cannot invest to the average of $8.00 per family, there is not one family in Canada which cannot set aside 25 cents per week for War Savings. Then there are many of us who can invest much more than the average each month. The task of getting the people to invest is easy—they have been waiting to be told to do their duty . . . The British people, faced with death every day, are making sacrifices and are exhibiting the greatest courage the world has ever seen. The savings of the British people have been thrown on the bargain counters to help buy munitions to help us as much as themselves. Up to date we haven't played our part. It is not 'Will we?' but 'we must!' If there is one thing above all others, it is that we must put it into our minds to do our duty."

An army of 16,000 CENSUS-TAKERS will start out on June 2 to determine, among other things, whether the Canadian-born population is commencing to diminish. It will be the first time that a Canadian census has been directly aimed at finding out how far race suicide has gone in Canada . . . Every married woman will be asked new questions about the number of her children. The previous question was simply how many children were living at home. United States census-takers sought the same general information. Britain made the first study of the kind in 1911, and since then other countries have followed. The Canadian questions are based on other world population studies. Statisticians claim that the population of the world is decreasing. They are awaiting the results of the census in Canada and the United States to see whether the decrease is as noticeable as has been claimed on this continent . . . Work on the census started two years ago. Questions had to be carefully prepared. The absolute boundary of every single census-taker's district had to be mapped out. There will be some 16,500 districts, but in some cases the same enumerator will cover two. Each enumerator will be given a 150-page book of instructions . . . A census commissioner will be named for every Federal riding, two for some of the larger ridings. The Minister of Trade and Commerce makes the appointments, but he follows largely the recommendations of the member for the riding. In the West where the census is held every five years, some commissioners have been on the job for twenty years. In the East the census is taken every ten years and the commissioners are very large new men each time . . . Changes have been made in the questions asked farmers. Any farmer with fifty fruit trees is recognized this time as a fruit farmer—a new classification. In the same way every farmer with a vegetable cash crop totalling at least $50.00 now becomes a vegetable farmer.

Federal Government officials are convinced that INFLATION CAN AND WILL BE AVOIDED. They believe this just as firmly as they did before Ontario's Mitchell Hepburn came out for an expansionist money policy. From September, 1939, to December, 1940, the cost of living advanced in Canada 7.2 per cent. Officials say that prospects are that prices will not advance much in the months ahead. If they do, action will be taken to freeze them just as action was taken in December to hold down the price of butter . . . Wages are now pegged to the cost of living, or rather to the cost of necessities, because luxuries are not included in the group of figures which make up the cost of living index. Any increase in luxuries, therefore, will not affect the wage scales. Luxuries will go still higher in prices as exchange restrictions and extra taxation take effect. Significantly, Finance Minister Ilsley announced in a big war savings advertisement that luxury consumption must be cut to release manpower, machinery and materials for war supplies . . . If the cost of living continued to mount as it has mounted so far, wages would automatically move up 5 per cent in about six months. If wages moved up, other costs would move up and another increase in wages would be necessary. The spiral would have started . . . There is no doubt that it is the intention of the various economic boards to act to hold down prices before there is need of a wage increase. Actually, officials believe that the need of a general increase in wages will be an indication that they are losing the fight. If prices start to run away there will be a general pegging order. Management of money is understood much better than it was in the last war. There have been some vivid object lessons since then, and they have been carefully studied. Mr. Hepburn's call for $480,000,000 new money fell on deaf ears in Ottawa. The answer given to all demands for credit expansion is that there is more money in Canada now than ever before; that there is all that is needed to buy consumer goods. The resources over and above this need, Government economists say, should be used to pay for the war.

Even while experts grappled with the problem of grain and where to store it, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics officially gave CANADA'S 1940 WHEAT CROP the stature of a giant, ranking the 551,390,000-bushel crop as the second largest in history. In its third estimate of 1940 wheat production, the bureau valued the crop at $283,269,000 and placed it second only to the 1928 yield of 566,726,000 bushels. It compared with 520,623,000 bushels produced in 1939 with a value of $282,151,000. The bureau made its announcement while Trade Minister McKinnon and the Canadian Wheat Board were in conference, the storage for Canada's superabundance of grain being the main problem before them.

APPLE WEEK AT VANCOUVER OFF TO FINE START

B.C. Products Bureau of Vancouver Board of Trade Energetic on Behalf of B.C. Apple Industry—Haskins Speaks at Coast

"Very little to report. Form of assistance to be given by Government for forty-one not yet decided. Discussions B.C. Scotia, and Government continuing," wired A. K. Loyd, President of Tree Fruits, from Ottawa last night.

Okanagan apple interests are lending every aid possible to the Vancouver Apple Week campaign, that commences today at the coast city and will continue until Saturday, February 2. Similar weeks are being operated in New Westminster, Powell River and Nanaimo, all with the purpose of assisting the B.C. apple growers to educate the consumer to a point where he will become "apple conscious."

W. E. Haskins, of the B.C. Fruit Board, left on Saturday for the coast, where he will address a series of meetings and luncheons on the general topic of apple production and marketing.

Mr. Haskins commenced his series of lectures in Nanaimo on Tuesday and at noon today he will start the Vancouver Apple Week with an address to the Vancouver Junior Board of Trade.

On February 3, there will be a joint gathering of the Advertising and Sales Bureau and the B.C. Products Bureau of the Vancouver Board of Trade, at which Mr. Haskins will again be the speaker. Later that afternoon, he will meet the Local Council of Women, in the Georgian Room of the Hudson's Bay Company.

B.C. Products Bureau These campaigns are sponsored by the B.C. Products Bureau of the Vancouver Board, with Pat Field and Archie Foreman as the main campaigners. This bureau has been instrumental in boosting B.C. apple sales at the coast in the past few years.

Expressions of gratitude for the energetic campaign being waged on behalf of the apple industry have gone forward to Vancouver from the Kelowna and Vernon Boards of Trade, Hon. Grote Stirling, M.P. for Yale; Capt. C. R. Bull, M.L.A. for South Okanagan; C. H. Tupper, M.L.A. for Similkameen; and C. A. Hayden, B.C.F.G.A. Secretary.

Other talks on the apple industry will be given before the Rotary, Kiwanis and Gyro clubs, at their regular meetings during the week. Bucknerfield's Ltd. has purchased 864 boxes of Okanagan apples and will distribute them to school children throughout Greater Vancouver. Each apple is specially wrapped with a numbered wrapper. Kelowna District Has Sent More Than $16,000 to Red Cross Society Provincial Headquarters

Magnificent Sum Forwarded to National Society with Expenses Only Amounting to $110—This Money Raised in Fourteen Months—Work Committee Shows Really Worth-While Work with $3,000 Worth of Wool and Materials Used in Year—Twenty-eight Units Working in This District—W. A. C. Bennett Re-elected President While L. R. Stephens Replaces E. W. Barton as Secretary

A TOTAL of $16,506.85 in cash has been forwarded by the Kelowna and District Red Cross Branch to the national organization in the past fourteen months and, in addition, large quantities of supplies have also been made. This magnificent record has been achieved at a net overhead cost of only $110.00. These were the high points of the report of President W. A. C. Bennett at the annual meeting of the local body on Friday last, in the Board of Trade rooms.

W. A. C. Bennett, who replaced Capt. J. H. Horn as President when the latter was called for military service, was re-elected President, while Mrs. H. C. Collett was elected Vice-President. Mrs. Collett will continue to serve as head of the organization's most important committee, the work committee.

L. R. Stephens replaces E. W. Barton as Secretary-Treasurer. It was felt that it was desirable to have the Red Cross and War Activities handled by two individuals as some confusion resulted when handled by one person. Mr. Barton suggested this move and asked to be relieved of his duties as Secretary of the Red Cross.

The directors elected were: Mrs. E. Hoare, Mrs. F. Day, F. T. Marriage, C. A. McKay, D. C. Patterson, D. C. Fillmore and E. W. Barton. Hon. Grote Stirling and Capt. C. R. Bull were elected Honorary Presidents.

Valuable Branch "The provincial headquarters in Vancouver considers our branch one of the most important in the province," Mr. Bennett stated in his report. "During the calendar year of 1940 we remitted a total of $10,412.55 to provincial headquarters, which made a total forwarded since the branch was organized

Quantity of Chlorine In City Water Supply Will Be Regulated

Dr. J. M. Hershey Presents Medical Health Report for Past Year—Mayor McKay Congratulates the Health Unit Head on Completeness of Work—Milk Supply Received by Kelowna Residents is Excellent, He Says—Wants Better Garbage Collection Service in Summer—Will Safeguard City Water Reservoir

MORE satisfactory control of the amount of chlorine being placed in Kelowna's domestic water supply was announced by Dr. J. M. Hershey, M.H.O. of the Okanagan Health Unit, in presenting an annual report to the Kelowna City Council on Monday evening. He gave a most comprehensive report which praised the supply of milk being received by the residents of Kelowna, but called for a change-over in the garbage collection system so that more frequent calls can be made in the summer. In Kelowna district, there have been more than fifty cases of scarlet fever, but he expects that there will be few new cases now.

Mayor G. A. McKay complimented Dr. Hershey on the excellence of his report, which was adopted unanimously. Dr. Hershey discussed in an "off the record" manner some of the aspects of the report with the City Council and revealed some details of the plans he has in mind with regard to the coming year.

In the discussion on sewer extension and the necessity for more sewer connections being made, now that the extension of service has been made general throughout the city, Dr. Hershey mentioned that there are 320 outside toilets still in existence in this city, besides 14 cow shelters and two horse shelters.

Ald. W. B. Hughes-Games, Chairman of the Health Department, furthered Dr. Hershey's remarks by declaring that the city garbage collection bylaw is unsatisfactory and should be revised this year.

Following is the complete report submitted by Dr. Hershey last Monday:

Municipal Water Supply Bacteriological examinations of the municipal water supply, which have been carried out daily since February of this year, showed, at an early date that the water passing through the city pumps from Okanagan Lake was grossly polluted. A sanitary survey, which was carried out simultaneously with the laboratory work, disclosed the presence of several obvious sources of contamination. In spite of the fact that these known sources of danger were promptly and satisfactorily dealt with, evidence of contamination persisted. Accordingly, the Board of Health, meeting to discuss the report of these conditions, accepted the recommendation of the Medical Health Officer that the water distributed in the city be safeguarded by chlorination.

Pending the arrival of proper equipment for carrying out this procedure, chlorination was carried out by crude methods which at times produced unpleasant taste effects. The latter, however, disappeared following the installation of the chlorinator and repeated tests with orthochlorin, a substance which permits the detection of free chlorine in very small amounts, showed that the water reaching the consumer contained either no free chlorine or chlorine in insignificant quantities.

This situation continued until December, 1940, when numerous complaints were received regarding the taste of chlorine in the water. Investigations were again carried out and the water tested for free chlorine.

Advertisements Buy War Stamps In this issue of this paper and during the month of February, advertisements inserted by the Dominion Government will advocate the cause of War Savings Certificates. That the February War Savings Campaign may bring the maximum possible results to the Government, the Courier has adopted the policy of taking the cost of these advertisements and investing it in War Savings Certificates. By this method the Government will receive back the money spent on its advertising program in this paper.

Raymond Wills Hauls Out Kamloops Trout Over Twenty-Three Pounds

Raymond Wills has been credited with pulling out of Okanagan Lake the largest fish which has been captured in many years. This finny specimen weighed 23 pounds, four ounces, and was hauled out of the deep waters off Mission Creek on Wednesday, January 22, by Mr. Wills.

Joe Spurrier has received notice of the first sports tourist who will be coming to Kelowna district. On Tuesday, he received a wire from Thomas Anderson, of Ellensburg, who desired information regarding winter fishing prospects in this district.

Mr. Spurrier wired the information back to Mr. Anderson and the latter will bring a party to Kelowna soon to investigate the depths of Okanagan Lake for himself.

Because of his prize catch, Mr. Wills will now be enrolled in the O.K. Big Fish Club and will be entitled to a gold pin.

INDOOR SPORTS CARNIVAL FOR GYRO CAMPAIGN

Gyro Club to Donate Profits from Endeavor Next Thursday to Sending The Courier to Boys on Active Service

An Indoor Sports Carnival, sponsored by the Gyro Club of Kelowna with the aim of raising funds to send yearly subscriptions of The Courier to the Kelowna district boys on active service, has been announced for the Scout Hall on Thursday, February 6.

The Gyros wish to obtain sufficient funds so that each soldier, navy man or R.C.A.F. member from the Kelowna district will receive his home town paper for the next year. The Courier has offered to send the paper each week for a year, at half the usual subscription price, to all men on active service.

In order to raise this money, the Gyros are offering the sports loving people of Kelowna district an opportunity to enjoy themselves while they are contributing to this cause.

On Thursday afternoon, February 6, at the Scout Hall, a ping pong or table tennis tournament will be staged. This tournament will be narrowed down to the semi-finals, which, along with the finals, will be played in the evening.

In the evening, there will be many more games, some of which will be darts, quoits and bingo. After the ping pong tournament is concluded, the tables may be rented for the spectators.

A nominal admission price of twenty-five cents is being charged, but in reality the admission is free, as for every twenty-five cents paid at the door tickets will be issued for the various games to be enjoyed. It is anticipated that a large crowd of fun-seekers will be on hand both afternoon and evening. Further announcement will be made next Monday regarding entries for the ping pong tournament and other features of the day.

Expenses for the Indoor Sports Carnival will be extremely light. The Gyros report and practically all the money received can be turned over to purchase yearly subscriptions to The Courier.

Advertising of the Carnival in The Courier is being donated by this firm.

Ribbon of Quarters Contest To Feature War Savings Month

Orchard City Accepts Challenge of Main Line Town to Contest to See Which Can Build the Longest Ribbon of Quarters Through the Sale of War Savings Stamps—Will Run for Four Saturdays—Will be Feature of Drive to Enlist Regular War Savers—Dominion Asks Kelowna District to Furnish Two Thousand Regular War Savers—Ottawa Says Purchasing of War Savings Certificate is Greatest Work the Individual Can do to Further War Effort—Serves Two-Fold Purpose—Local Committee Named

Public Meeting Being Held Tomorrow Night

TWO thousand Regular War Savers pledged during the month of February to invest at least $5,000 per month for the next year in war savings certificates, is the request made by the Dominion Government to the people of the Kelowna district. A challenge for a "ribbon of quarters" contest has been hurled by the people of Kamloops and accepted by the Kelowna committee.

It is all part of the War Savings Pledge Month which is being conducted right across Canada during February for the purpose of signing up two million Canadians who will pledge themselves to invest regularly in war savings stamps and certificates.

Investment in war savings certificates has been indicated by the Dominion Government as the most important work the individual can do to further Canada's war effort.

A committee has been organized here and a public meeting is being held in the Board of Trade rooms at eight p.m. on Friday evening for the purpose of completing plans for the canvass of the district. All persons willing to assist are requested to attend, especially persons from the rural areas.

CAMPAIGN RIBBON OF SILVER

The month of February has been set aside by the Dominion Government as a "ribbon-of-quarters" contest to be run on the four Saturdays during February. The challenge has been accepted and the competition will be started on Saturday afternoon at two o'clock.

The idea is actually a simple one. In each town war savings stamps will be sold and the quarters received will be placed side by side in one long ribbon of silver along the sidewalk.

The persons buying the stamps will retain them. Thus there can be no suggestion that participation in the fun involves a gift or donation in any way. It is simply a scheme to encourage the sale of war savings stamps and to promote the war savings idea.

Mayor G. A. McKay will purchase the first stamp and place his quarter in the prescribed position to start the ribbon. The other city aldermen will follow suit. Then the general public is asked to step right up and do its part.

The location of the opening ceremony is not definitely settled upon but it will either be at the corner of Bernard and Mill Street or at Bernard and Water.

It is anticipated that the Junior Band will be present to participate in the ribbon growing contest. The Gyro Club is handling the sale of stamps on Saturday and it is hoped that three more organizations will each agree to take charge of the ribbon for one Saturday, with a committee for an elaborate "trophy" being arranged, the "trophy" going to the organization which succeeds in having the longest ribbon of quarters.

The number of feet or inches the ribbon grows each Saturday will be carefully noted, and on the succeeding Saturday the ribbon will start where it left off the preceding Saturday. Thus the ribbon will gradually work its way through the business district.

It is expected that CKOV will broadcast the opening ceremony and through its teletype system will keep local people advised as to the progress of the Kamloops ribbon.

One important point the general public should remember. They are not being asked to give anything. They are not being asked to donate a cent. Every cent invested in war savings certificates is definitely serving two purposes. The first and

Voluntary—Or Else

Next month a concerted Dominion-wide drive will be undertaken with the objective of gaining pledges from two million Canadians to buy war savings certificates for the duration of the war. The entire month will be devoted to the campaign under the direction of Walter P. Zeller as national chairman, and the assistance of 200,000 voluntary workers is being asked in order to put the drive over.

This campaign will be the first serious effort made to impress Canadians with the financial responsibilities the war is imposing upon citizens in all walks of life. If it does not succeed it is not unlikely that the government will be forced to consider some means of compulsory savings.

The success of the campaign will depend upon the securing of pledges for regular savings. There is no desire to show a spectacular total for the period of the campaign. It is imperative, it is pointed out, that there will be assurances of continuous subscriptions.

There is no doubt that higher taxes and licensing powers will be employed by Ottawa this year. The so-called interim-budget of last autumn will be seen as a slight touch upon taxpayers compared with the budget which is soon to be brought down. The government faces the absolute necessity of diverting the rising flow of wage earnings into channels of war production. If this is not accomplished by the voluntary co-operation of the public it will be accomplished by compulsion. New taxes and prohibitions which will be designed to curb spending, are certain. The extent to which these weapons will be employed, will depend largely upon the response which is gained by the campaign for war savings.

The enormous scale of spending upon consumer goods and particularly upon luxuries, has been a disappointment to federal finance authorities. The initial restraints employed have not tended to discourage the spending tendencies and it is realized that more severe regulations will be necessary to finance the war.

While many have not yet subscribed to the war savings plan, many firms have been encouraging the practice and their employees have become regular subscribers. Some employers have given an added incentive to saving by making contributions in proportion to the amounts subscribed by the employees. In the forthcoming campaign those now saving will be asked to increase their regular savings wherever possible and the effort to secure new subscribers will be carried into nearly every home, office, factory and place of business in the Dominion.

The drive is no charity appeal on behalf of the government. The purchase of war savings certificates is a money-making savings scheme for every subscriber. And it is necessary that people save.

We hear talk of the prospect that the ultimate cost of war may be so great that savings certificates will have no value anyway when the war is over. This is defeatist talk and reckless opinion. The fullest answer to it is that if Canada's government certificates are of no value when the war is over, nothing else will be of greater value.

It must be borne home to citizens that the greatest contribution which can be made to the war effort, and at the same time be made toward the maintenance of financial and economic stability after the war, will be in lending every possible aid to the government in its current financing problems. For the average citizen, war savings certificates offer the greatest and most convenient means of contributing.

So far the government has pursued a policy which has shown no sign of inflationary results. Prices have been kept at reasonable levels and with the lessons of the last war in mind the government will make every effort to avoid inflation. It is obvious that it cannot be avoided by the avoidance of taxation, and the need to tax will be affected to a great extent by the voluntary saving efforts of the Canadian people.

Systematic Budgeting

There is bound to be a very salutary permanent effect on Canadian citizens generally as a result of the present trend in the country towards systematic budgeting for all business and all households. This budgeting scheme is of course designed to help all classes of people to meet war-time obligations as comfortably as possible. Workers in factories, housewives in the home and business executives, storekeepers generally are being asked to set aside from current incomes regularly definite sums of money which can be applied to the purchase of war savings certificates, to meet income tax payments and to enable many others to buy war bonds when new loans are launched.

Most individuals find it necessary to fight against a tendency to become careless, and with so many demands on the ordinary pocketbook, the average citizen awakes to the realization that he hasn't any money ready for the necessary things when they come due.

Many of those in the middle income group who paid income taxes last year now find that with the increased taxation rate they must pay as much as 300 per cent more this year than they did last. Unless reminded of this, several thousands in this class would arrive at April 30, 1941, only to discover they hadn't the available cash to pay up, and thus to undergo the necessity of paying the financial penalty for being in arrears.

It is largely for this reason that the Department at Ottawa is encouraging income taxpayers to pay in instalments. Thus anyone can divide his total income tax payment into eight monthly portions—so long as he makes his first payment before January 31. To make it easier, the department says he may pay only one-twelfth of his total tax before January 31, one-twelfth in the three succeeding months, with payments of one-sixth in the remaining four months.

Without doubt, if some two million Canadian citizens pledge themselves during February to save out of their incomes a set amount each month to buy War Savings Certificates, and if a large number adopt the plan of saving for the instalment paying of income tax, the general effect of this program will be felt throughout the country long after the war has been concluded.

Farmers On The March

Two weeks ago in an editorial in the B.C. F.G.A. Convention Extra this paper suggested that the B.C.F.G.A. might well prove to be an organization upon which other farmer organizations would be modelled within a short time. That prediction is already coming true, for unless all signs mislead, rural Ontario is aflame and Ontario farmers are in a militant mood as the direct result of the failure of federal leadership and the utterly hopeless prospect of them obtaining any real help from Hon. James Gardiner. They are afire with a determination to extricate themselves from the slough of despondency in which they have been plunged by ten years of depression.

Prince Edward County has given the lead. Others are stirring. Not in a quarter of a century have the dairy farmers and hog producers of Old Ontario been so profoundly moved by a sense of grievance and determination to right the economic wrongs which oppress them. The packed Shire Hall at Picton was significant as it set in motion machinery to create a co-operative organization of farmers, and principal speakers were mostly Liberal. Every township and every school-section will be organized on a non-political basis. The farmers are tired of the palliatives of party politicians. They believe the time for talking is past and for action has come.

The Picton meeting clearly reflected the unrest which prevails throughout the rural sections of the country and revealed the determination of farmers to escape from the morass in which they are bogged by disorganization in an organized world.

The ills which afflict the farmer were accurately diagnosed by H. H. Hannam, President of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, at the annual meeting in Toronto: "In the seventeenth month of the war we are so sincerely worried and alarmed about the detrimental effect which the present trend of national policies is inflicting upon agriculture that we deem it our duty to so advise our people and our national leaders in the hope that adjustments may be made before the unity of our people is affected and before our war effort suffers a setback."

Farm people of Canada, doing everything possible to keep Britain supplied with vital food, have no thought of retaliatory action or reprisals against governments which have failed them. They are willing to work sixteen hours a day to keep the British larder stocked. But they cannot go on forever producing at a loss, with the prices of farm products pegged at artificially low levels when no similar provision is made to safeguard the farmers against the rising prices of the commodities he must buy. All they ask is equality of sacrifice and the right to make a living.

Face and Fill

Help your country by becoming a Regular War Saver.

The local branch of the Red Cross is said to be considered one of the most important in the province. Contributions of over $16,000 in fourteen months from this district, to say nothing of the amount of materials shipped, is no mean contribution. And the overhead cost of only $110 probably will set a record in the Dominion.

War Economy

By
CAPT. C. R. BULL, M.L.A.

When a state of war exists the economic history of a country invariably follows this course:

1. Production gradually changes from the making of consumer goods for either domestic or export sale, to the making of munitions and other war necessities.

2. Capital expenditures on the building of homes and public buildings and on road construction, etc., are also gradually reduced to a minimum as the war effort gets under way.

3. As more men are called to the colors and more factory jobs become available, the unemployed find work; the part time workers find full time employment; men are taken from non-essential activities, and the number of men employed in private enterprises, in government peace time services and on farms are reduced to the minimum. This transition continues until there are just sufficient men and sufficient equipment left in the making of non-war goods to take care of the minimum requirements of the people, so that they may continue to enjoy good health and morale.

4. This transition will be made before the war is started. It can only advance as fast as the department in charge of the production of war materials can organize the country in that production.

5. If people in their enthusiasm stop buying and cut down on their expenses very suddenly, ahead of and in anticipation of this transition stage, it will cause unemployment, unless there is a market abroad for the goods they abstain from buying.

6. It may be economically sound to continue the production of export goods throughout the war, to use the labor in them for war production.

The two important economic objectives to keep in mind as far as Canada is concerned are these—

1. The conservation of foreign exchange to buy those things necessary to the prosecution of the war not available in this country or not available in sufficient quantities. For this purpose it is necessary to cut down on all unnecessary imports and export as much as possible, raw materials preferably, as they require less man power to produce. If sufficient is not available from this source, it will be necessary to ship our gold reserves or realize on foreign investments.

We must plan to have sufficient exchange available to buy from abroad countries our quota of requirements as long as the war lasts.

2. The gearing of the national resources into maximum war production in the shortest possible time. Our external or export financial position is strong. During the past few years we have repatriated five hundred million dollars of our externally held debt, and during the war period this rate of repatriation may even be increased. However, this does not alter the problem of the vital need of neutral foreign exchange, as the war time repatriation will be for the purpose of nations shipping the Axis powers until we may possibly change our present position as regards Great Britain from that of a debtor to that of a creditor.

On the other hand, our position with regard to neutral countries will be the reverse, as we will gradually cash in on our holdings of their securities to meet our extraordinary purchases. We may indeed have to use them to purchase for the Allies as a whole.

In this connection we should keep in mind that, as it is our determination to see that there is no private profiteering, we must be on our guard to see there is no profiteering. For this purpose we might take the average amount of repatriation that has occurred during the previous seven or eight years, and if repatriation as a whole exceeds this amount in any year, absorb, up to the extent of the increase, costs now charged to the Imperial account.

With this date in front of us we can now consider the question of finance as far as Canada is concerned, which I cannot too strongly emphasize is a secondary consideration in our war economy as compared with foreign exchange and production.

With more people becoming fully employed in war work there will be more money in circulation and there will be fewer consumer goods to purchase, and if this money is not taken out of circulation by taxation or investment we are bound to get inflation.

The government must therefore acquire this money to prevent inflation and to finance the cost of the war. Our plan would be to increase taxation until there is just enough money in each person's possession to purchase the consumer goods available.

The alternative plan which is the one being followed in Canada and elsewhere in the Empire, is to increase taxation to a degree and obtain the rest of the money necessary for the war effort by borrowing from the public, and provided the public respond to the plea of the government to lend all they have above their bare needs, it is the better plan. It is the better plan because, human nature being what it is, men will work harder if they feel they are laying something aside for a rainy day in the way of War Savings Certificates or bonds, rather than if they see all their savings disappear in taxation.

The only exception to this rule as it applies to the average person is when danger to the nation is so imminent that individual endeavor is permanently geared in high.

We often hear that this course of financing by borrowing in addition to taxation will result in piling up an overwhelming debt structure.

This is not a true conception of the case when considering the effects of an increase in the internal debt because, although we will have to pay more in taxes when the war is over than if we had not borrowed to cover the interest charges, the people receive back the entire amount of the interest collected. This is a statement of fact that cannot be disputed. However, it might be argued that these government borrowings represented by bonds and certificates accumulate in a few hands, and that the burden would be borne by the rest of the nation. But when you consider, as you must for the purpose of this argument, the power the government has to tax on incomes, on inheritances, and on excess profits, this fear is shown to be imaginary and not real.

There is one other fact we should be clear on, which at present is very little understood, and that is that the real burden of the debt is borne at the time the debt is incurred, when factories of production are diverted to other uses than producing the goods and services the country has been consuming, and not at the time the debt is paid off.

In other words, the people fighting the war are the people paying for it.

The only portion of the cost of the war that will be borne by the post war generation is the replenishment of the reserves of consumer goods which have been depleted during the war, and the catching up on those capital investments, private and public, which would ordinarily have been made, but which have been held over because of the war.

NOTE.—Since this article was written, President Roosevelt made a speech in which he advocated the supplying of Great Britain with war materials to be paid for in kind after the war. If the President is able to implement his wish, and it would seem that he will be able to do so, this may alter the problem in Canada so that neutral exchange no longer ranks in importance with the gearing of our resources into maximum war production in the shortest possible time.

"The Bachelors' Ball, held on Friday evening in the Opera House, was productive of the largest attendance at any dance this season, about 250 people being present."

"A recent report of the Department of Trade and Commerce mentions the arrival at Shanghai of 500 boxes of Newtown Pippin and Spitzenburg in excellent condition, shipped by Sirling & Pitsairn, of Kelowna. The market for Kelowna fruit ever widens, and there seems little fear of over-production." (Those were the days of optimism in the fruit industry!)

"David Good, chief packer for the Kettle Valley Railway, was a visitor in town from Penticton on Tuesday. The survey party engaged in running the preliminary location over the Okanagan-Kettle River summit and through this district is now camped about two miles from Penticton, and it is possible that final location work will be done for some distance east and west of that town before making the final location over the summit, so that construction can be undertaken actively in the neighborhood of Penticton this summer."

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Thursday, January 27, 1921

At the first meeting of the new School Board, held on January 18th, Mrs. W. B. M. Calder was elected chairman of the Board in succession to Mr. J. A. Bigger, who had retired after eight years service as a Trustee, including seven years as chairman.

The Burns anniversary was commemorated by a concert in the Empress Theatre and a dance in the Morrison Hall, on Thursday, January 20th, with a large attendance at both events. The Burns oration was delivered by Mr. R. B. Kerr, who paid a glowing tribute to the national bard of Scotland.

A good start was made with enlistment in the new company of infantry authorized for Kelowna in succession to the pre-war unit, "E" Company, 102nd Regiment, Rocky Mountain Rangers, and it was hoped to bring the company up to strength within a short time. The officers and headquarters N.C.O.'s selected were: Officer Commanding, Major H. H. Abbott, M.C., late 29th Bn., C.E.F.; Second-in-Command, Captain G. Douglas Cameron, M.C., late 27th Bn.; Lieut. W. W. Shug, M.M., late 29th Bn.; Lieut. W. W. Pettigrew, M.M., late R.A.F.; Lieut. Donald McDougall, late Canadian Survey Section; Lieut. Alwyn D. Weddell, late 72nd Bn.; Lieut. E. W. Wilkinson, late 7th Bn.; Company Sergeant-Major James Heughan, late 48th Bn.; Company Quartermaster-Sergeant George Kennedy, late 48th Bn.

TEN YEARS AGO

Thursday, January 22, 1931

"The Independent Growers Association has been granted incorporation under the Societies Act."

The outstanding feature of the forty-first annual convention of the British Columbia Fruit Growers Association, held in the Scout Hall on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, January 20th, 21st and 22nd, was the question of central selling according to a plan outlined by Mr. F. M. Black, Chairman of the Committee of Direction. Mr. Black spoke before the convention upon the salient points of his scheme, and at the conclusion of his address he was given a prolonged ovation. The Scout Hall attracted an audience of some seven hundred people to listen to the discussion of the plan, at the conclusion of which a vote was taken. The possible poll of delegates was 60, but twenty did not exercise their prerogative, including three who had been instructed to vote but did not do so, fifteen berry growers who took a neutral stand and two absentees. Of the remaining forty, thirty-eight voted in favor of central selling, while two delegates from Creston opposed it. The resolution, moved by R. H. Macdonald, Vernon, and Col. W. H. Moodie, East Kelowna, was as follows:

Resolved, that this meeting endorse the principle and the general scheme of a Growers Marketing Board, as set out in the summary of the draft bill presented to the convention, and that authority be given to the executive to take the necessary steps to obtain the requisite legislation."

T. Abriel, of Nakusp, who had served five terms as President and six as Vice-President, and had been a member of the executive of the association for twenty-three years, declined re-election, and R. H. Macdonald, of Vernon, was chosen to succeed him, with F. Cox, Salmon Arm, as Vice-President, and V. B. Robinson, Vancouver, Secretary-Treasurer.

The membership of the association as at January 19, 1931, was 2,198.

The Courier published an extra edition on Saturday, January 17, containing Part II of the report of W. Sanford Evans, appointed by the Provincial Government as a one-man Commission to investigate the fruit industry. Neither the Produce Marketing Act nor the central selling plan found favor in the eyes of the Royal Commission, who recommended adoption of the Wenatchee voluntary plan of a price regulating bureau, a scheme strongly advocated by many independent growers, but which in the long run proved an utter failure as far as orderly marketing was concerned.

"THE CANADIAN TEMPERANCE Federation is inviting the churches of Canada, the temperance organizations, the service clubs, the educational leaders, the press, and leaders in society and public life to join in a three-months' campaign extending from New Year's to Easter to make Canada temperance-conscious," says an article in a recent issue of the Canadian Baptist... No, you're wrong. This is not going to be a temperance lecture, but let us read the article a little further. It says: "This Canada-wide wartime voluntary total abstinence campaign will be fundamentally educational. Its aim is to induce a vast number of our citizens to consider our present-day liquor habits in the light of modern scientific knowledge and the social and national effects of our drinking. There has been spent in Canada in the last year of record approximately $200,000,000 for liquor. It has been estimated that the indirect costs of liquor in misdirected purchasing power, loss of time, loss of efficiency, impaired health, increased crime, augmented social burdens, is at least equal to the original expenditure, and probably more. It may well be that the waste and loss induced by drink, if its ramifications could be followed, would bring the expenditure and loss due to drink to a total of nearly half a billion dollars. The enormous and constant undercutting of human and monetary resources alike of the individual and of the nation is a problem of serious concern even in time of peace. In wartime it is madness. If it were not so serious, it would be ludicrous to have our public men talk of saving, of licensing, of rationing, etc., with a view to conserving strength, while the most obvious leakage in individual and national finance is ignored—and not merely ignored, but maintained by political leaders and stimulated by public policy." ... All of which is so absolutely reasonable, is it not? ... If it were the whole picture ...

THE TEMPERANCE PEOPLE have a very strong case—but they always over do it. My home happened to be in one of the "driest" counties in Ontario. In fact, on one occasion it elected the leader of the Ontario Temperance Party to the Legislature. Running a newspaper in such a district, one inevitably came into very close contact with temperance organizations and their leaders, and it always made me more than a little sad to see them completely ruin a perfectly good argument by going off the deep end. One chap, I recall, started a nation-wide campaign to prohibit the manufacture of rum and butter toffee as, he said, it tended to make the youngsters like the taste of rum. The idea was fine from his point of view ... excepting he failed to investigate and discover there is no rum in rum and butter toffee ... But all this is beside the point. What I am trying to say is that ardent temperance people become so enthusiastic they usually overpaint the picture or ignore all the facts. That is what the Canadian Baptist has done in its article quoted above. It overpainted the picture and it did not paint the whole picture. It failed, for instance, to point out that a very, very large percentage of the money spent for liquor goes directly into the government treasury. That percentage, if I recall it correctly, is about eighty per cent. I may be out a little but not by a very great deal. On that basis eighty per cent of the liquor dollar goes to the government. If, as the Canadian Baptist says, the liquor bill is $200,000,000 a year, then $160,000,000 finds its way through taxes to the public coffers. That is no small sum, especially in these days when the government is crying for every cent it can lay its hands on ...

THIS IS NOT A suggestion that you should go out and spend your hard-earned cash on liquor. And it is not a suggestion that possibly the temperance forces haven't something in their campaign—as long as it is voluntary and is not the thin edge of the wedge to bring back those godawful prohibition days. But this is a suggestion that when the temperance advocates deplore the fact that the Canadian people poured $200,000,000 worth of liquor down their throats last year, they should be honest enough to admit that about three-quarters of that sum went to help the war effort ...

ALL THIS RECALLS a conversation I heard a couple of weeks ago. One chap said he was giving up drinking liquor and was putting the money he would ordinarily spend that way into war savings certificates. The other chap had a different slant on it. He said he was not giving up buying liquor because he was giving outright three quarters of his purchase price to the government while the other chap was only LENDING it. Get the point? You have to admit he had grounds for his argument. The purchase of war savings certificates was only lending that amount of money to the government which would have to pay interest for seven and a half years. The three-quarters of the liquor purchase price was an outright gift which the government did not have to pay back and on which it paid no interest. Which is better—a straight gift or a loan? The answer is obvious ...

OR IT WOULD BE obvious, if the whole picture had been considered, for the liquor-buying chap had missed one of the vital reasons for buying war savings certificates. One of the primary objectives of the scheme, it is true, is to place money in the hands of the government, but an equally important reason, and one which the government stresses continually, is that the purchase of war savings certificates is going to provide a backlog of cash for the purchasers at the time when they are going to need it most, in the postwar period. The government has not yet said to stop buying liquor. And I do not think it will. But I do imagine that if the government were asked point blank whether one should buy liquor and make a gift of three-quarters of the purchase price to the government or whether one should buy war savings certificates, the government would say, "Buy the certificates as they are an investment for you" ...

AND SINCE I HAVE worked around to getting a word in about war savings stamps and certificates, how about you bridge players making a resolution to put all your bridge winnings into war stamps for the month of February? It really isn't a bad idea. I do not, of course, mean your net winnings but your gross winnings. After all you do not play for the money you win; you play for the love of the game. Invest your winnings and you may be surprised at the number of stamps you would be able to purchase. And what about your losses? Well, after all, you should be willing to pay something for a month's entertainment, shouldn't you? I know whereof I speak for I have been following that idea for some months, and, although a mediocre player, was more than gratified the other day to see how my rainy day backlog of war savings certificates had grown simply because I had set aside any bridge winnings I was lucky enough to accumulate. The idea is that if you win, say, thirty-five cents, you purchase two stamps, making up the difference out of your own pocket. But that seems hardly fair, you say? Well, the difference is fifteen cents and surely an evening or an afternoon of bridge is worth that amount—especially when you are helping the war effort and at the same time building a savings account for yourself ...

RUTLAND HOCKEY BILL SELTS AWAY

Kelowna-Vernon Game Cancelled Again Causing Disappointment

Once again the Rutland fans were disappointed by the weather man and a hockey game billed for last Saturday at Rutland between Vernon and Kelowna had to be cancelled on account of soft ice. Members of the Rutland committee and others interested worked all night on Friday spraying the rink and building up a good ice surface, only to see their efforts turned to water when the weather warmed up Saturday. Considerable expense has been involved in constructing the rink and the committee had hoped to meet this outlay by game receipts and a carnival before now, but the mild winter has been against them so far. The grass is growing in the fields and the hockey players may have to turn their efforts toward the grass variety of the sport.

Mrs. C. H. Bond left on Monday for Vancouver to visit her daughter, Mrs. Peter Taylor.

The Rutland Girl Guides have resumed their meetings, commencing on Monday afternoon of this week. Quite a few new recruits have joined and the company now numbers 24, under the command of Miss E. Scott, the captain.

Corp. Jack Woolsey, of the 2nd Battalion Canadian Scottish, is spending two weeks' leave visiting relatives in the district.

James Duncan, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Duncan, of the Belgo, is a patient in the Kelowna Hospital, where he underwent a successful operation on Thursday of last week.

Mrs. Lee Oakes returned on Sunday from Armstrong, after spending a two weeks' visit at the home of her parents.

Frank Stoneman, of Vancouver, who is a trainee at the Vernon Military Camp, was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Fitzpatrick over the past week-end. Mr. Stoneman is married to a niece of "Doc" Fitzpatrick.

Rev. John Petrie spoke on the life and poetry of Robert Burns, Scotland's national bard, at the service on Sunday evening. The annual congregational meeting of the Rutland United Church was announced for Friday, January 31st.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Fitzpatrick and family, of Oliver, were visitors to the district on Sunday last.

Great Voluntary Work Of United Church is Indicated in Reports

Annual Meeting Hears Reports Covering Activities in First United Church, Kelowna—More than 12 Groups Give Their Versions—War Has Helped to Reveal Fine Qualities of Members, States Session—Red Cross and Refugee Committee Given Great Assistance by Women's Circles—Financial Statement Shows Healthy Condition

MORE than twelve organizations presented reports covering the year's work, at the annual meeting of the United Church last Wednesday evening, January 22, when a fine, representative gathering of the congregation was in attendance. These reports were indicative of the widespread interests of the church. Dr. W. W. McPherson occupied the chair and A. J. Hughes was Secretary.

The reports were introduced by a message from the Session, as follows: "It is with gratitude to our Heavenly Father that we review the work of our church during 1940. The war has cast its shadow over us all, but this has only helped to reveal the fine qualities of soul that has characterized much of our work. The reports of our various organizations indicate an amazing amount of faithful voluntary work carried on by our church and will show that the best traditions of our congregational life have been maintained."

"The missionary life of our church has been ably fostered through our Women's Missionary Society and the various Circles, while the social life of our people has been well maintained by our Women's Association. The fusion of these two societies into the Women's Federation, under the presidency of Mrs. R. W. Corner, in order to make for even greater efficiency in our missionary work, which has within it great possibilities."

"Another great achievement of our women is the Red Cross and Refugee work, carried on under the leadership of Mrs. T. F. McWilliams. Their faithful and indefatigable work on Tuesday and Friday afternoons, for our Empire, is something of which we are all proud."

Young Men Respond
"The call of our Empire in its hour of need has seen at least 20 of our young men respond, many of whom are now overseas. We surely will remember them and their loved ones in our thoughts and prayers. Very soon we shall begin our Honor Roll."

"In the year that lies before us, may we in particular remember our services of worship on Sundays. During dark and difficult days, St. Paul urged the Christians 'not to forsake the assembling of themselves together.' There is nothing more inspiring than a church well filled with God's people, who gather with each other around the Throne of Grace to help and to cheer one another and to be close to God, who has promised that where two or three gather together in His name, He is in their midst."

Under the Missionary Department it was shown that 20 of the hospitals of the congregation, but also the local community through gifts to needy families and donations to the local Preventorium.

The work of the various Circles for the Red Cross and Refugee Committee was presented by Mrs. T. F. McWilliams and revealed an astonishing amount of effort, including: 140 pairs of socks, 24 pairs of mitts, 60 sweaters, 23 miscellaneous amputation covers, bed jackets, helmets, etc., 5 dozen bed gowns, 5 dozen pillow slips, 4 dozen pneumonia jackets, 25 surgeon's caps, 1 dozen kimono, 60 pads, 3 dozen pyjamas, 4 dozen towels, 12 dozen handkerchiefs, 49 women's dresses, 83 girls' dresses, 3 dozen girls' tunics and skirts, 2½ dozen boys' pants, 6½ dozen boys' shirts, 33 quilts, and suitable garments made from donated material, while second-hand clothing was sent to the committee working for the people in bombed areas of Britain.

Strong Financial Position
The financial statement, presented by W. E. Adams, showed the church to be in a strong position, with all accounts paid and a little balance with which to face the coming year. It also revealed that almost 25 per cent of the total giving of the congregation were devoted to missions. A total of $8,849 was raised and $1,857 was given to missions.

The membership now stands at 510, while the Sunday School, with a splendid staff of teachers and officers, now has an enrolment of nearly 400.

It was decided to renovate the church, and a strong committee, under the leadership of R. J. Gordon, is working on the project.

Election of Officers
The election of officers resulted as follows:
Session: L. Dilworth, J. M. Brydon, G. F. Pearcey, W. McTavish and Dr. D. M. Black.
Stewards: H. F. Chapin, G. A. McKay, H. Mitchell, A. C. Dunnett, A. J. Bowering and R. M. Johnston.
Trustees: T. F. McWilliams, W. E. Adams, W. Lloyd-Jones, G. A. McKay and E. T. Abbott.
Auditors: R. E. Rutherford & Co.
Votes of thanks were extended to The Kelowna Courier, Capital News and CKOV for their publicity work, and to Henry Tutt and C. Mossey for their cooperation of organ and pulpit for the Christmas services.

S. V. Hubble, of the Session, expressed the appreciation of the congregation and its confidence in both Dr. and Mrs. W. W. McPherson.
A fine gathering was brought to a close with the singing of "Blest be the tie that binds" and the Benediction, after which refreshments were served.

A Noisy Corner
The world's noisiest corner is said to be that at Sixth Avenue and Thirty-Fourth Street, New York. It is said the corner is noisy enough to make a normal person two-thirds deaf for as long as he stands there.

as formerly for baseball playing was responsible for a smaller revenue and this will also remain during this season. The Baseball Club had formerly been responsible for one half of grounds payment.

The Mosquito Control Committee had raised $42.05 for control purposes and had spent $27.62 of this amount.
J. W. Fowler, for the Historical Society Committee, reported that while considerable progress had been made in their work, it was not possible for them at this time to give a definite report. He stated that work had been done on papers having to do with stores, churches, schools and packing houses, and that work would continue during the winter months.

New Executive

When nominations were called for, the names of Geo. F. Elliot, Gordon Munro, Stan Edwards, Luke Ioberge and Nels Arnold came up and these were declared elected.

At a subsequent meeting of this executive, held following adjournment of the main meeting, Stan Edwards was elected President, Luke Ioberge as Vice-President and Gordon Munro, Secretary. Cliff Fallow was chosen as auditor, having already audited the books of the past year's operations.

Ladies' Aid Meeting

The Ladies' Aid of the Winfield United Church held a regular meeting at the home of Mrs. G. W. Edmunds on January 15. The attendance being small, little business was transacted. It was decided to hold the annual meeting at the home of Mrs. John Edmunds on February 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Metcalfe arrived home recently from a trip in the U.S.A.

F. C. Brown, of Vancouver, arrived on Saturday last to look over his dairy interests here.

Rev. Frank Henderson is expected to take the Sunday afternoon service at St. Margaret's Church, Winfield, at 3 o'clock.

"I am pleased to report that the very best feeling and co-operation exists among your organization and the Kelowna and District War Activities Committee."
Mr. Bennett pointed out that the low operating cost was, to a large extent, made possible by the contributions for funds being handled by the War Activities Committee which bore certain expenses which would have had to be borne by the Red Cross had it conducted a separate campaign.

25 Working Units
Mrs. H. C. S. Collett, Chairman of the work committee, reported that the local branch "now has 25 working units, and included in this total are three junior Red Cross school units and the Girl Guides."
The branch used $2,093.69 worth of wool and materials during the year and 48 cartons of finished supplies were shipped, plus one of all-over paper. A detailed list of these supplies will be published in The Kelowna Courier.

"The work of the first six months was for hospital supplies," Mrs. Collett continued. "At the end of May an appeal for new or used blankets and a splendid condition was made and this branch shipped 72 blankets, many of these being double ones. . . . A letter of June 14th gave notice that it had been decided to supply the branches with material for making garments for the thousands of homeless pouring into Britain from the continent and Channel Islands."
"The Kelowna Women's Institute offered to handle this work, but the units were given this work. As hospital supplies had been brought up to standard requirements in Britain and Canada, and nothing was being sent to other countries, many units raised funds for material and large consignments of donated garments were sent to Vancouver."

"The Royal Purple Lodge arranged a tea, asking each visitor to bring a new garment and this brought in a splendid supply. Nearly all the units have donated home-made quilts and knitted lap rugs. Eighty quilts and ten rugs have been forwarded to headquarters."
"The question of getting good used clothing was a difficult one as the Red Cross have only a limited space in warehouses and on ships, but the branches were instructed to

Hospital on Sunday, January 26,
1941, to Mr. and Mrs. Emory
Walker, Rutland, a son.

INGRAM—At the Kelowna General
Hospital on Tuesday, January 28,

LAWLER—At the Kelowna General Hospital on Wednesday, January 29, 1941, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lawler, Penticton, a son.

Mort Paige, District Sales Manager, Union Oil Co., was a visitor to Kelowna on Tuesday, from Kam-loops.

Junior Red Cross, reported that the personal gift of $13.00
from Capt. J. H. Horn and a grant of $30.00 from the War Activities Committee, the Junior Branch had had a total income of $43, with which to purchase supplies, as the purchase of funds are available for junior work from the provincial or national bodies. The Kelowna Girl Guides, the Rutland Girl Guides, the ex-C.I.G.T. group and the Kelowna High School have all been active in the work and 63 property
bags for hospital use, 16 wash cloths
and a large quantity of socks, baby clothes, soldiers' handkerchiefs, sweaters and other items have been delivered to Mrs. Collett.

The Kelowna High School girls have raised funds to the amount of $12.00 for the purchase of materials.
In the Kelowna Elementary School
there has been much activity in Red Cross work. Funds have been raised by the sale of candy and novelties, and materials purchased. In one class, all the youngsters, including the boys, are learning to knit. Last June, over $60 was raised for the purchase of materials with which to make clothes for child refugees in Europe. About $19.00 was donated to the W. A. C. drive last fall, a local organization to handle them.
The Salvation Army has been receiving all the used clothing and has a clever and capable unit of ladies mending and remaking such articles as need a little improvement. All these garments are sent by the Salvation Army direct to Britain."

Secretary E. W. Barton reviewed the work of the branch during the year, laying emphasis on the points not covered in the other report. He stated the branch had been able to render valuable service in assisting local persons to contact friends or relatives who were prisoners of war, give information about the requirements for the shipping of food to prisoners of war, and give information as to how British families who had been bombed or evacuated might be contacted. All these items had been published in The Courier,
he said.

Barton explained at some length the steps taken last summer
for the conservation of food for relief work and explained why the major portion of the work had to be abandoned that year. He paid special tribute to Women's Institutes of Westbank and Winfield and to Miss Smith, of Bankhead, who had made splendid gifts of canned food.
Mrs. H. C. S. Collett was appointed at branch representative at a provincial meeting to be held in Vancouver.

An enthusiastic vote of thanks was passed to the officers of the branch for their work during the year, special mention being made of Mrs. Collett and Mr. Barton.

The heads of the departments had thanked the chairman, Council for their cooperation in giving them the Municipal Hall for a work room,

with rent, light and heating all free.
The secretary was commended for his tact and cooperation, while the treasurer had worked very hard and the accounts were well kept

work room committee was beyond all praise, Mr. Burdekin stated, and tributes from headquarters had come in for the high standard of the work done by the Peachland Red Cross.

pairs children's pajamas, 1 parcel refugee clothing, 1 rubber sheet.

The sending of a delegate to the Provincial Red Cross convention on February 21 and 22 was discussed,
but no action was taken.

The Rural Occupational School is a centre of activity at the moment this week. The enrollment is smaller than last year, with 27 pupils,
but of these only four are from outside points, two from Kelowna and two from Westbank. The enrollment of young men is small, but the interest keen. Five instructors are with the school. Besides Principal A. G.
Edwards, there are two men, P. Abbott and Fred Kernan. Miss Smith well is in charge of home economics with Miss Isabel Stevens in charge of sewing and crafts. The school will complete the two weeks'
course on Saturday night, while a banquet is to be held Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kyser returned home on Wednesday, January 22,
after a trip to Idaho.

Trp. Tom McLaughlin arrived on Tuesday morning to spend his two weeks' leave at his home here.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs.
C. F. Bradley, in the Kelowna Hospital, on Saturday, January 11.

Mrs. H. Sutherland has arrived home after a trip to Vancouver.

Mrs. M. Davidson is reported to be making good progress in the Kelowna Hospital, after a recent attack of pneumonia.

A letter of appreciation for the Christmas parcel sent by the Comfort Club was received from Pte.
Neil Evans. Letters of thanks have also been received from recipients of parcels in Canada and from those who were home on leave at Christmas and had a party given in their honor.

A successful court whist drive was held on Friday evening, with a good crowd in attendance and fourteen tables in play. First prize winners were Mrs. G. Lang and C. Whinton, while consolation prizes went to Mrs. G. Topham and W. E. Clements. Proceeds of the evening, which was arranged by the Canadian Legion, went to a cigarette fund for soldiers.

Mrs. A. S. Burdekin left on Wednesday for a trip to Victoria.

Mrs. A. G. Edwards, of Princeton, was a week-end visitor in town.

SCARLET FEVER CLOSES SCHOOL

Because of an outbreak of a mild type of scarlet fever, it was decided to close schools and public meetings at Peachland for ten days.
This decision was reached at a conference of Council members and Chairman A. J. Chidley of the Peachland School Board with Dr.
A. W. Vanderburg, of Summerland.
Due to a fresh case of the disease, which was diagnosed by Dr. Vanderburg on Monday afternoon as scarlet fever, action was taken by Reeve B. F. Gummow, in conference with Chairman Chidley, of the School Board.

WESTBANK GIRL IS BRIDE AT COAST NUPTIALS

Enid Margaret Gates and Albert H. Northeast are United in Marriage at Kerriisdale

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of the Rev. Dr. George Pringle, in Kerriisdale, Vancouver, on Saturday, January 18, when Enid Margaret, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Gates of Westbank, became the bride of Albert H. Northeast, younger son of Mr. and Mrs.
A. Northeast, of Brandon, Manitoba, and who spent some considerable time in Westbank before going to Vancouver last year.
The bride, prettily attired in a dress of bluebird crepe, with matching hat and accessories, wore a corsage of pink carnations, and was attended by her cousin, Miss Audrey Edwards, of Kelowna. Dick Atkins, of Vancouver, a nephew of Mrs. L. D. Hittner, of Westbank, supported the groom. Relatives of the bride's mother, who were in Vancouver attended the ceremony.
Mr. and Mrs. Northeast have taken up residence in Vancouver.

Thirty cases of fruit and vegetables, canned during last season
by Westbank women, left here recently for Red Cross headquarters at Vancouver. These cases contained two dozen cans, the contents for which had been donated by men and women of the district.
Donations of cash also were given,
and this money went to purchase
sugar and cans.

Tpr. and Mrs. A. E. Northeast, of Nanaimo, have been the guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.
Basham, of Westbank, recently. Tpr.
Northeast is attached to the 5th C.
M.C. Regiment.

The Westbank branch of the Red Cross benefited to the extent of $7.50 as a result of the turkey given by Mrs. M. Lewis and raffled by Jim Ingram. Mrs. Carter was the lucky holder of the winning ticket.

E. Freathy, of Westbank, a veteran of the last war, is in training
as an air craftsman at Brandon, Man.

Miss Frances Drought, of West-bank, returned last week to her parents' home, following a stay of some six weeks at Victoria.

Mrs. E. M. Fearnley, who arrived in Westbank last summer from her home in the south-east of England,
has gone to Vancouver for a time.

Members of the T.T.Q. Club,
Westbank, met at the home of Mrs.
W. D. Gordon on Friday, January 24, to discuss the aims of the club, which has been inactive during the past year. There is the sum of some $40.00 on hand, which will go to some improvement on the Community Hall, it is anticipated.

Miss Florrie Hannam and Leonard Hoskins are apparently the only two of Westbank's young people who are attending the Rural Occupational School now being conducted at Peachland. Leonard Hannam
is attending similar classes at Oso-yoos, where he is staying with his sister, Mrs. E. MacNaughton.

A Shelter, of Westbank, Pro-Rec instructor, took part in the Pro-Rec program at the Rotary Ice Carnival at Vernon last Thursday. In his absence, Hilary Carter was in charge of the Westbank Pro-Rec classes.

Mrs. B. Basham, whose husband, Robert Basham, is in the hospital at Vernon, Hazel Hewlett spent several days in Vernon during last week, returning to their homes in Westbank early this week.

Billy Atkinson, of Kelowna, has been a recent guest in Westbank, where he stayed with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. S. K. MacKay.

Mrs. M. Kingsbury, of Westbank, spent several days of last week with Mrs. C. Johnson, of Peachland.

ST. ANDREW'S PARISH CHURCH HOLDS SESSION

B. T. Haverfield Accepts Position as People's Warden for Another Year—Small Congregations are Noted

The annual meeting of St. Andrew's Parish Church, Okanagan Mission, was held on Wednesday afternoon of last week at the Bellevue
Hotel. Eleven parishioners and Rev.
C. E. Davis and Rev. F. Henderson
were present. The people's warden, B. T. Haverfield, reported that there had been difficulty in raising funds for the assistant priest's stipend and the annual church convass
did not bring in enough to meet expenses. It was decided to try the envelope system this year. Envelopes will be distributed to all parishioners in the district and they will be asked to donate something each week in lieu of the annual church subscription. It was suggested a notice to this effect be put in the Parish leaflet.
Rev. C. E. Davis reported an average attendance of thirteen at the forty-seven services held at St.
Andrew's Church throughout the year and added there were very few in the congregation at evening services. Due to the untiring energy of Miss Franklyn, there have been thirty baptisms in the Mission during the past year. Rev. Davis praised the work being carried on at the Sunday School by Miss Steward and it was decided that St. Andrew's Parish Guild pay fifteen dollars towards her transportation.
The election of officers was not completed as only three men were present at the meeting. B. T. Haverfield wished to resign but, as no one would take on the work of people's warden, he said he would carry on for one more year. Rector's Warden L. D. Browne-Clayton, who has been on the Church committee for fifteen years, stated he was anxious to resign.
A vote of thanks was given to the auditor of the church accounts, D.

chlorine over a considerable period of time and at widespread points throughout the city. The results of these tests showed that, while at no time was the water found to contain gross amounts of chlorine, at other and unnecessarily frequent times this substance was present in amount exceeding the threshold for taste. The existence of such a condition has been shown to be quite unnecessary, and it is understood that steps have been taken to ensure more satisfactory control of the chlorine treatment in the future. 27-1c adequate garbage collection service was provided, and it is recommended that consideration be given to the provision of such service for the summer months at least.

Other Sanitary Surveys

A number of investigations carried out during the past year included sanitary surveys of shipping and wharves, Mill Creek, drains, disposal of commercial wastes, and the sewer disposal plant and its effluent. In a number of instances specific improvement in sanitation has been obtained following these inspections, and further improvement in this regard can be expected in the near future.

Milk Control

The production and distribution of milk intended for sale in Kelowna is carried out under licence of the Board of Health. To ensure that the requirements of the Board are complied with, many visits have been made by the Sanitary Inspector to the producers' farms and distributors' plants for the inspection of equipment and methods of handling milk. With the replacement of milk obtained at frequent intervals from each producer and distributor have been taken to the laboratory for the estimation of bacterial counts. Wherever these counts have been found to be excessively high, investigations have been made to determine the cause and steps have been taken to eliminate it. Thanks to the co-operation of producer and distributor alike, the results of this work to date have been unusually successful.

All milk handled by the plants of four of the five distributors in Kelowna is pasteurized. With the replacement during the past year of certain unsatisfactory equipment with new modern apparatus, the public can be assured that all milk handled in these plants is properly processed. Correct pasteurization, temperature is maintained by thermostatic control, and automatic recording thermometers provide an accurate and permanent chart of the actual temperatures prevailing during the period of processing. In addition, the accuracy of the whole procedure is effectively checked from time to time by the use of special tests in the laboratory.

An examination of the results of this work for the past year shows not only that very satisfactory progress has been made in this field but that, judged by standard methods of milk analysis, the milk supplied to the consumer in the City of Kelowna can now be classed as "excellent."

Extension of Sewerage System

The bylaw providing for the extension of the sewerage system of the city received the full support of the city health officials when it was passed in the spring of 1940. The passage of this bylaw and the subsequent successful completion of the work is a matter of great satisfaction, and it is hoped that early in the coming year the householders affected will take advantage of the service which has been provided. Failing this and in the absence of satisfactory reason to the contrary, it is recommended that steps be taken to remind the property owners of the regulations concerning sewer connections as set forth in Article 33 of Bylaw No. 562.

Collection of Garbage

The collection of garbage and refuse is not ordinarily considered a matter which concerns the health officials in Kelowna, however, during the summer months much material, harmless in itself, serves as an attraction or breeding ground for flies and mosquitoes because of lack of means of disposal. There can be little doubt that a great improvement in environmental sanitation would be possible if a more

Clubs for Immunization of Pre-School Children

In October clinics were organized under arrangements made between the health officials and the practicing physicians of Kelowna for the protection of infants and pre-school children against certain important preventable diseases of early childhood. Medical men prepared and advised them to take their children for these treatments or to the clinics held by the Department of Health. The latter were held in the Primary School through the courtesy of the Kelowna School Board. The success of the clinics is indicated by the fact that it was necessary to hold them as a rule twice weekly over a period of three and a half months. The treatments given were for the prevention of diphtheria, whooping cough and scarlet fever. The combined figures for the number of children receiving the full course of treatments at the private and public health clinics are as follows: For prevention of diphtheria, 157; whooping cough, 121, plus 15 to be completed; scarlet fever, 178.

Laboratory Service

The success of many of the investigations carried out by the health officials has depended on the results of laboratory work carried out in the Kelowna branch of the Division of Laboratories of the Provincial Board of Health. Reference has already been made to the part played by the laboratory in the control both of water supplies and the production and distribution of milk. In addition, it should be pointed out that valuable and, at

HUSBAND OF LOCAL BRIDE INJURED

At New Westminster, on Saturday, January 18th, Lena Isabel (Lenabel), second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Martin, of 301 Water Street, Kelowna, was married to Mr. Fred Bain, of Vancouver. The many friends of the bride will be sorry to learn of the serious accident to her husband on Saturday, January 25th, at about 8 a.m. Mr. Bain was on his way to work in his car when the accident occurred. His car is a total wreck and he himself was thrown out of the car. He was removed to the Vancouver General Hospital with severe spinal injuries. The bride's parents are leaving for the coast almost immediately.

STIRLING IS GUEST SPEAKER

Hon. Grote Stirling, M.P. for Yale, was guest speaker at the Gyo Club of Kelowna supper meeting at the Royal Anne Hotel on Tuesday evening. His subject centered on Canada's war effort.

5 HARKNESS RETIRES

G. A. McNicholl, General Passenger Agent, Vancouver, will be present. Also attending the banquet will be Leslie Corner, who has arrived from Winnipeg to succeed Mr. Harkness as traffic representative. He was formerly Travelling Freight Agent in Manitoba.

Born at Tamworth, Ontario, E. H. Harkness commenced railroading with the old Bay of Quinte Railway, now part of the C.N.R. system, in June, 1893, as agent at Larklin, Ont. He was subsequently agent at Stoco, Strathcona and Tweed, all in Ontario.

In May, 1910, Mr. Harkness moved west and joined the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway as agent at South Saskatchewan, Sask. He transferred to the Freight Traffic Department in 1914 and was promoted to the position of City Freight Agent, Saskatoon.

After eleven years in Saskatoon, Mr. Harkness came to British Columbia to take over new duties as Traffic Representative, freight and passenger, at Vernon, when the Canadian National Railways opened its Okanagan Valley service from Kamloops to Penticton.

times, essential diagnostic and control aids are provided by this service for use in other branches of public health activity such as enteric infections, tuberculosis and venereal disease control. A report of the laboratory activities, both clinical and public health, is in course of preparation for the Board of Management of the Kelowna General Hospital, and this no doubt will be made available at a later date to those particularly interested in this work.

In concluding this report, it is a pleasure to acknowledge the interest and co-operation which we have received from the practicing physicians of Kelowna in making having to do with the public health. Our thanks are also due to members of the City Council and School Board, the City Engineer and other city officials.

G. H. DUNN, City Clerk.

Popularity of this contest was evidenced by the large number of replies received. The committee of impartial judges had great difficulty in selecting the winners due to so many being evenly matched — The Contest Editor wishes to thank all those who participated.

In order to win a prize in this contest the jumbled firms' names which appeared on this page last week had to be deciphered and then original and suitable advertisements written in brief messages had to be composed. The copy was not to run over twenty words for each space.

From Suez to Singapore stretches a great theatre of war, vital to the

depends upon it.
The swift growth of India as a

SALE OF CULLS TO BE STUDIED BY COMMITTEE

B.C.F.G.A. Convention Discuss Byproducts and Cull Disposal at Some Length When in Convention Here

Byproducts and the sale of cull
fruit found many growers ready to express their views before the
B.C.F.G.A. convention, in the L.O.O.F.
Hall, in Kelowna recently, when the discussion opened with the presentation of a Keremeos-Cawston resolution. Other resolutions by Sumnerland and Kaleden were withdrawn.

The Similkameen local wished Tree Fruits to take over the complete control of cull fruit disposal,
with the idea that no culls will be sold without adequate remuneration to the growers.

Cap. E. A. Titchmarsh, however, did not consider this resolution a feasible one and he asked that the whole question of the supply of raw products to byproducts plants,
as well as the advisability of taking control of the byproducts industry be taken under advisement
by a select committee of the B.C.F.
G.A. with power to act.

This plan met with the convention's approval.
L. E. Marshall and Claude Taylor,
Kelowna, directors of the Kelowna
Growers Exchange and its Modern Foods plant, were foremost in the discussion on this subject and contributed some valuable pointers.
Mr. Marshall told of the intense competition from the United States and Eastern Canada in the matter of byproducts and stated that, if the local plants had to pay $10 per ton for the material, then their competitors would have an edge in price.

FOUR PER CENT ON TAX PAYMENTS

According to the usual practice of the past few years, the City Council agreed on Monday evening to allow four per cent interest on all payments of 1941 taxes made prior to September 1, 1941. The four per cent interest applies until October 20, 1941, which is the final date to escape penalties for non-payment of current taxes. By encouraging taxpayers to pay their taxes earlier than usual, the taxpayers are benefitting by interest on their payments and the City of Kelowna is able to finance more economically,
with less borrowing from the bank.

Relief to Primary Industries - - -

Sirois Commission Recommends Dominion Furnish Advances

When the Sirois Commission considered the problem of agriculture
throughout the Dominion, it divided its findings into a number of main headings. One of the first of these concerns relief to primary industries. Next came marketing of natural products, prevention of interference with interprovincial trade and delegation of powers.

Some of this discussion is closely correlated with other industries
similar to the agricultural industry.
In dealing with relief to primary industries, the report declares:

"Assistance for the victim of natural forces - the farmer whose crop has been lost, the fisherman whose nets have been swept away - has traditionally been a local responsibility. Generally speaking, the circumstances and the appropriate forms of assistance vary so greatly between different areas that only local administration can meet the needs promptly and efficiently. It also appears appropriate that the financial liability should be local;
it is in effect a case where local risk is characteristic of the community industry and a proper expense of that industry."

"It is not easy to distinguish between natural disaster and unfavorable marketing conditions, inflated costs and other economic factors.
Where the former is the case, and only the occasional individual is affected, the community can easily bear the financial responsibility of his relief; where the latter is the case, the whole community is likely to become impoverished."

"In the diversification of a largely self-sufficient agricultural area, the economic factors are not so important and minimum standards, at least,
can be maintained from local resources, but in the more specialized cash crop areas where the basis
is much more vulnerable."

"Either failure of the cash crop, or low prices and restricted markets will likely make necessary substantial cash assistance, which,
in an impoverished industrial area might have its counterpart in increased tariff protection. In serious cases, the local community's financial resources and credit will quick-

"The Canadian wheat industry is the outstanding case of the dependence of a large area, and a large sector of the whole national economy, on the profitable production of one product. When an unprecedented series of crop failures coincided with record low prices, provincial and then Dominion governmental assistance was necessary to prevent complete collapse of the industry."

"But, whether or not its financial proposals are adopted, the Commission recommends that the Dominion should furnish directly operating cash advances, if these have to be made, whenever it undertakes
the regulation of a primary industry, including control of the marketing of the product and setting its price."

"The Commission believes that the result would be greater efficiency in collections, substantial savings of public funds, and equity and fairness as between individuals in the industry; since the Dominion, through its monopoly control of the product, could reimburse itself directly."

"In such cases and in accordance with the general principle underlying the Commission's financial recommendations that the provinces and the municipalities should be provided with as stable revenues as possible, local and provincial taxes on levies should be given priority over recovery of these advances."

pear to require no constitutional

those cases in which the Dominion

recognized the need for national aid to and responsibility for an industry. Nor would the general principle of the Commission's re-

unemployment be affected."

operating costs, unless the Domini-

But we do not recommend that it should do so."

repetition of the need for the Dominion advancing the operating costs of the primary industry, the Dominion should make the advances and collections directly. This need will only arise if the Commission's financial recommendations are not implemented."

"If these recommendations are implemented, a province, of course, would not have the burden of the Dominion, but would be able, on establishment of its need, to obtain an emergency grant, or to borrow from other sources, since the increased services on its debt would be offset by increased national adjustment grant."

whether the Dominion or the province and when we consider one delegating its authority to another the question must arise, whose authority?

"Personally, I do not believe either of these methods would produce that lack of confusion and difficulty, nor the certainty and at the same time flexibility of jurisdiction which the Commission
states to be the desirable end."

"References to the courts over a period of sixty years have settled
so many points of conflicting jurisdiction and definitely allocated it to one government or the other, that the points on which the jurisdiction is not known have been narrowed down to a definite field."

"These few points, the principal one being jurisdiction concerning interprovincial trade, should be definitely assigned to one government or the other."

"No wording in any statute can be so clear and concise that it will not lead to references to the courts to interpret it," continued Mr. Haskins. "Changes in the constitution,
therefore, are more likely to lead to further litigation than to settling the need for it."

"In my opinion, the benefit of sixty years of court decisions, which have clearly settled many points, should be retained by leaving the constitution as it stands and merely defining clearly the respective jurisdictions on those points which have not been settled in the courts."

"A satisfactory solution might be found by some method somewhat along the lines suggested by the report. It might be feasible to make up two lists of commodities, and to grant full jurisdiction to the Dominion Government over one list,
and to the provinces over the other list, regardless of whether that commodity entered into interprovincial trade."

GROWERS CONFER ON SIROIS REPORT

At the B.C.F.G.A. convention in Kelowna recently, the executive introduced a resolution dealing with the Sirois Commission report and its interest to agriculture. The convention asked the Canadian Federation of Agriculture to consider carefully the implications of any action taken on this report and to prepare a report for its provincial units, giving as full information as possible as to the effect the adoption, or otherwise, would have on Canadian agriculture. The B.C.
growers also asked the Canadian Federation to make any suggestions regarding any possible action which might be taken to insure that agricultural interests will be given full consideration.

As a final section, the convention titled the Canadian Federation to the question of marketing legislation jurisdiction be settled satisfac-

RED LIGHTS TO PROTECT MARCHING TROOPS

For the safety of troops on the march on unlighted roads, orders are issued that two red lights shall be carried at the rear of the column, instead of one as formerly, one on the off side and one on the near side of the road, so that the column will be visible to traffic coming from behind.

Memory of Immortal Bard Toasted at East Kelowna

Annual Banquet and Dance Attracts Large Crowd from This District—A. H. Stevens, of Summerland, Delivers Excellent Address on Robert Burns

A large and enthusiastic crowd of Scots and friends filled the East Kelowna Community Hall on Friday, January 24, to commemorate the 151st anniversary of the birth of the immortal Scottish Bard, Robert Burns. An excellent banquet and dance, prepared and sponsored by the East Kelowna Budminton Club and supported and assisted by many other members of the community, did much to help the success of this observance.

The chairman of the evening was Mayor G. A. McKay, of Kelowna. Rev. J. Petrie to say the Selkirk Grace. The March of the Haggis was led by Piper J. Arthur, with W. H. H. McDougall as carrier and flanked by D. McDougall and J. Ferguson as guards. The Ode to the Haggis was given in true Scots style by Billy Murray.

The toast to the King was proposed by the chairman, and this was followed by the singing of the National Anthem. Mayor McKay, in his brief remarks, stressed the feelings of the times and the need for such gatherings to keep alive the true spirit of friendship and brotherhood. Those present were asked to stand and pay tribute to a few moments' silence in honor of the late Dave Crawford.

Community Singing
Margaret Mitchell ably presented two Scottish dances to the lulling air of the pipes played by C. Henderson. This was followed by community singing, led by Mrs. G. D. Cameron. The first song was the traditional one of such occasions—"There was a Lad Born in Kyle." This led to a succession of the best-known Scottish songs, which were entered into with a will by all.

In the toast, "To the Lassies," F. L. "Doc" Fitzpatrick quoted some of Burns' views of the lassies as exemplified by many of his writings. The most sincere of praise, the men were asked to rise and toast the Lassies. This toast was ably replied to by Mrs. Isabel Stillington. Two songs, "Flow Gently Sweet Afton" and "Scots Wae Hae," sung by J. M. DeGeer, were excellently presented and enjoyed by his listeners.

The main toast of the evening, "The Immortal Memory," was given by Alex. H. Stevens, of Summerland. In his remarks, the speaker reminded his audience of the fact that Scotland had given to the world, and especially the beloved poet, Rabbie Burns, who is revered in all lands. Touching on the conflict of the present day, Mr. Stevens told of the part that men and women of Scotch birth and descent are playing to keep alive the spirit of freedom so beloved by Burns.

Birth of Burns
Eloquently, the speaker told his listeners of the circumstances surrounding the birth of Robert Burns, and out of the struggle of early life emerged the unquenchable spirit of Burns, who did more than any one to raise the songs of Scotland from the depths into which they had descended, and who made them such that they will never be forgotten. The speaker showed today by the great leaders in the democratic world, the will to fight for freedom, had one of its greatest exponents in the spirit of the immortal Bard.

The speaker reminded the audience of the fact of the death of Burns at the age of 37, and asked them to consider what the world might have received if he had lived. Burns was human and intense, a poet of the common man who wrote his verse in the tongue which they used. This is one of the reasons for the deep love that is held in the hearts of the Scots of today. Burns was a devoted son of Scotland, and wrote of its beauties in verses tender, just as he could write against the evils of the day in vitriolic terms. The homage paid year after year to the Bard of Scotland is not only the outpouring of the love of Burns and what he did for Scotland, but also the way in which the Scot is, for a time at least, again at home. After the drinking of the toast, Janet Strang, of East Kelowna, entertained with two Scottish dances, accompanied by Billy Murray.

Peachland Speaker
The toast "To the Land We Left" was proposed by A. Fraser MacDonald, of Peachland. In his opening remarks, he admitted that he had not been born in Scotland, but had done the next best thing and had been born in New Scotland, of Scottish parents in a Scots' settlement. He stressed the love for Scotland that he inspired in his sons and daughters, and for memories of a people both gracious and kindly. Mr. MacDonald mentioned the observances which would be held in all parts of the world in honor of Burns and Scotland. Instances were given in which Scottish societies were established in North America many years ago, both in the American colonies and Canada. The songs of the boatmen of the River St. Lawrence are songs of exiles turning their hearts to home, the power of the call of Scotland to exiled sons and daughters.

The love of history will find much in the story of Scotland to hold him enthralled; the lover of literature will find in the songs of Scotland a beauty and power often equalled; the lover of freedom will find in the story of the Covenanters a new ideal and a new concept of the need for freedom in all of life's phases. Scotland is honored by the character of her sons and daughters, an inspiration and a comfort to all countries of the world.

The drinking of the toast "To the Land We Left" was followed by all joining both heartily and feelingly in the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

Toast to Canada
The toast to "The Land We Live In" was proposed by J. E. Reekie. Mr. Reekie stressed the features of Canada, its magnitude, its beauty, its resources and its power, and peopled in part by the men and women of Auld Scotia. A bounteous nature has given us the opportunity to gain great revenue from the plains, lakes and streams, and the vision of early leaders has been dominant, not only in developing Canada, but in making much of Canada's wealth possible today. The speaker stressed the spirit of loyalty and brotherhood of the Scot which has done much to make the "land we live in" the "land we love."

Gowans, of Summerland, was called upon by Mayor McKay to say a few words. Mr. Gowans brought greetings from the Scottish Society of Summerland and once again stressed the fact that in all parts of the world are living ordinary men and women like ourselves, seated together in friendship to live again in memory in the old land.

After the closing remarks, the hall was quickly cleared and all settled down to the serious business of reviving the reels of the homeland. The Grand March was led by Dougald McDougall and Margaret Mitchell. The music for dancing was supplied by Billy Murray's orchestra, which stayed with the job until a decidedly late hour.

Arrangements for the evening were under the care of Mrs. J. Ferguson, and J. Ferguson and W. Robertson were efficient floor managers. Supper for the waiters, waitresses and attendants was served on the stage before the banquet. This efficient but silent body did yeoman service during the evening.

1ST RUTLAND TROOP

"Do a Good Turn Daily"

Orders for the week ending February 1st:
There will be no meeting of the troop on Friday of this week, owing to the fact that the Community Hall has been booked by the Y.P.S. for a dance on that night. There will be a court-of-honor, however, on Saturday night, at the home of A.S.M. Reith, at 7:30 p.m.

The annual public Scout meeting, which will be followed by the annual meeting of the local association, is to be held on Friday, February 7th. The meeting will start at 7:30 p.m., and refreshments will be served at the close of the Scout meeting.

There was a good attendance of all patrols but one on Friday last. Members of the Scout patrol left their P.L. and the troop down by falling to attend, due to counter attractions. One more new recruit, Frank Powick, was added to the troop roll at this meeting.

Assistant Scoutmaster Jim Duncan is a patient in the Kelowna Hospital, following an operation. The troop will be glad to know that he is progressing satisfactorily. Second Harold Zimmerman, of the Scouts, is the unfortunate victim of measles and will be in quarantine for some time.

Under the coaching of A.S.M. Webster, quite a number of Scouts have passed their first aid tests. Troop Leader Cunningham is conducting a class in signalling, and we hope to see all Scouts through these two tests before the winter is over.

WANT THEIR SIREN

English Villagers Revolt When Police Ordered It Silenced

The London Daily Mail says: Villagers of Box, England, are in revolt because the county police silenced an air raid siren. Robert Dyer, 63-year-old clerk to the parish council, who was paid 80 cents a week expenses for sounding the siren, asked for 20 cents more. The county police ordered the siren removed, and now why, Dyer refused to allow an electrician to take the siren from his garden. The villagers decree that Dyer is entitled to an increase to meet lighting, heating, cleaning and telephone expenses. They think it is too much to expect one man to be on duty 24 hours a day for the duration of the war. The people have appealed to the Minister of Home Security to keep the siren operating.

ALREADY the pattern and pace of life in Canada have undergone a profound change. Gaps in employment are rapidly filling up. Some 350,000 Canadians who were unemployed before the outbreak of war are now employed. Another 200,000 are with our armed forces. Factories, which until recently were turning out goods for civilian consumption, have been transformed into humming arsenals, pouring out instruments of war. Night and day shifts have become the rule rather than the exception. But the peak of effort is not yet in sight.

In 1941 still more factories will switch to war production... new plants will be established, thousands more will be employed. This rising tide of activity must continue until we reach the flood of effort when every Canadian will be employed and working to his utmost, every possible square inch of plant will be utilized, every wheel will be whirling in the race we are waging against time and the enemy.

More men are working... working longer hours... making more munitions... earning more money... producing more goods... putting more money into circulation. Most Canadians are sharing in this increased national wealth—have extra dollars in their pockets.

The effort the Prime Minister calls for is gaining momentum, but many Canadians, as individuals, have not yet felt the real pinch of sacrifice.

Canadians of all classes are sharing tax burdens, but it must be admitted that up to date the larger part of the money needed for Canada's war effort has come from business firms and individuals with large incomes. They are paying high taxes. They have already invested heavily in War Loan Bonds.

This is not enough. The plain truth is that Canada's rapidly expanding production for war purposes will require increasing sums of money. That is why the Prime Minister warned Canadians in his New Year's broadcast that the year ahead demands more effort and more sacrifice.

Every man, woman and child is asked to lend. Every dollar you lend will help to put another man in a job... making more munitions. Every dollar you lend may save a soldier's life... help to shorten the war. Small wage earners must carry their share of the burden, too.

No one need go without necessities, but you are urged to forego the purchase of unnecessary articles... however small the cost... no matter how well you are able to pay for them... which take labour and material away from the great task of providing goods needed to win the war.

This is your war. Everything you have... everything you believe in... is now at stake. This is a message to you... a challenge to every Canadian... a call to the colours... a call for volunteers.

Be sure to make provision to pay your Income Tax—payment is made easier by the new instalment plan. But be prepared to do more—budget your earnings to make sure that you will have money available to buy War Savings Certificates and to subscribe for War Loan Bonds. You will help Canada—you will help yourself.

About your angora ...
Angora is so heavenly-soft—and it needn't drive you crazy either.
It is less liable to shed, tickle, irritate or cling to coats, skirts and upholstery in general if (and you'll never believe it) you put the newly knitted garment in the icebox overnight!!!

About maple syrup ...
Another treat for the kiddies!
After a snowfall, bring a potful
of snow into the house and drip boiled maple syrup over it, then eat it with a fork. An old French-Canadian custom that Westerners will go for!

About your dog ...
Get a heart from your butcher, chop it up fine and cook it with rolled oats. Fido will love it these winter days. It acts as a conditioner and keeps his fur healthy.

About peeling an orange cleanly ...
Cut just the thickness of the skin, round the circumference and then again transversely. Then it is very easy to just pull off the quartered peel.

OYAMA CLUB FAILS TO ELECT PRESIDENT

New Executive Will Choose Own Chairman—Miss Patsy Dobson is Appointed Girl Guide Captain

Miss Patsy Dobson has been appointed captain of a company of Oyama Girl Guides, who are working to pass their Tenderfoot Tests by the middle of February. They meet each Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Luke Norman, who has a Brownie Pack meeting on the same day. A tea is to be held on Thursday, January 30, at the home of Mrs. A. Dobson, to raise funds for uniforms, etc.

There was a small attendance at the annual business meeting of the Oyama Community Club on Friday, January 24. A satisfactory financial statement was presented, followed by the election of officers for the year 1941-42. The meeting failed to elect a new president and the following executive agreed to take office, with power to elect their own chairman: Harold Butterworth, secretary-treasurer; Harry Aldred, Gordon Hall, E. Crawford and a representative from each activity functioning. A vote of thanks was passed to Norman Davies for his excellent work as president during the past three years. It was recommended that a circular letter be sent out to each family in Oyama, pointing out the difficulty of keeping the hall running on a sound financial basis and asking for the support of the community in paying the small yearly membership fee.

Privates Michael Orasuk and W. Fleck were home on leave last week.

INSPECTION FOR INTERFERENCE ON RADIO SOUGHT

Council to Back Junior Board in Endeavor to Have Inspector Come to Kelowna at Once to Investigate Disturbances

Radio interference, since early in December, has created a distinct nuisance in Kelowna, and the Kelowna Junior Board of Trade has made attempts to have the radio inspector visit this city at the earliest possible moment.

Early in January, the Junior Board decided to write the Department of Transport at Vancouver, requesting that an inspector be sent here immediately to ascertain the cause of so much radio interference. The reply the Junior Board received was to the effect that an inspector has been here in late November and no trouble was discovered.

It has been admitted by Junior Board officials that this statement is true, but the main trouble commenced early in December and has been continuing ever since.

On Monday night, the Junior Board communicated with the Kelowna City Council, soliciting support in endeavoring to bring a competent inspector to Kelowna. The Council acquiesced in this regard and will write the Transport Department.

LUMBY IS AHEAD IN HOCKEY LOOP

Overtime 4-2 Win Over Kelowna Puts Flying Frenchmen on Top

NORTH OKANAGAN HOCKEY
P W L D Pts.
Lumby — 6 4 2 0 8
Kelowna — 6 3 2 1 7
Kelowna — 6 1 4 1 3

Lumby's Flying Frenchmen went out in front in the North Okanagan Hockey League on Tuesday when they defeated Kelowna Applejacks 4-2. The game was a 4-2 overtime win. Kelowna saw an early 2-0 lead wilt away and could not withstand the assault of the hardy northerners.

This win places Lumby one point ahead of Kelowna. If ice can be obtained in the next couple of days, Lumby will be brought to the Rutland rink. On Tuesday night, the temperature dropped and the ground froze again last night, to give hockey executives more hope of being able to get ice.

Minus Eddie Witt, who was playing hockey for the Vernon Training Centre, Kelowna's Benny Novicki and Slim Lang scored in the first period for work against Lumby to give Kelowna a two-goal lead to take into the last canto. But the last ten minutes of play saw Lumby turn on the heat and shove the rubber past Tony Novicki twice to even the count at full time.

The lack of skating which Kelowna has had to buck all winter told in the overtime period and Lumby went on to score twice more, taking the game by a 4-2 count.

Kelowna hockey suffered another blow on Wednesday with the departure for California of Benny Novicki, who has gone south for further studies at the University of Southern California.

Next Tuesday, Kelowna plays at Vernon and, if ice is available, Lumby will come to Kelowna next Thursday.

MRS. B. BELSON DIES IN ENGLAND

Friends in Kelowna will learn with regret of the death in England on October 17, 1940, of Mrs. B. Belson, wife of Lt.-Col. B. Belson. The late Mrs. Belson came to Kelowna with her husband shortly after the World War I and made a wide circle of friends here. Mrs. Belson was particularly interested in the Kelowna Tennis Club and was an active worker. They moved to Victoria from Kelowna and later took up residence in Jersey, having to evacuate that island last year and move to England.

ARTS PHOTO STUDIO OPENS

This business, which is located in the premises once occupied by the Lilybet Cakes Shop, Bernard Avenue, has been commenced by J. Niedolin, formerly of Bridge River. Mr. Niedolin states that he has had 25 years' experience in the trade. He has been accompanied to Kelowna by his wife and two children.

CENTRE CLUB IS DEFEATED

Lose Matches to Kelowna and Vernon Over Week-end

The Okanagan Centre Badminton Club has been very busy the past week, with two matches being played in close succession. In the first, at the Kelowna club on Saturday evening, the Centre was defeated by the Kelowna club, Mrs. Van Ackeren, the Misses A. Draper and Venables and Messrs. Bernau, Van Ackeren, Berry and Phillips. The resulting score was in favor of Kelowna.

On Monday evening, at Vernon, a score of 9-7 resulted, with Vernon taking the larger end. Participating for the Centre were the Misses Carter, Harrop, Gled, Mr. and Mrs. Van Ackeren, F. Parker, B. Conroy and H. Bernau.

Another of the Benvoulin Refugees Organization's quilting bees was held at the home of Mrs. Chamberlain. A large number of the ladies were present. Refreshments and tea were served by Mrs. Chamberlain.

A number of the young people of the Benvoulin and Mission Creek district travelled to Vernon, either by train or car, on Thursday evening to take in the Vernon Ice Carnival.

Private Geo. Reid spent Sunday visiting his parents of this district.

Louis Casorso, who underwent an operation in the Kelowna General Hospital, returned home on Sunday.

evening, special radio drawings will be conducted and boxes of apples will be given away to the school children who hold lucky wrappers. The Bureau has written to Vancouver restaurants, hotels, managers of department stores, Retail Merchants Association, the Department of Education, etc., enlisting their co-operation. Special lessons will be given in the schools, particularly the domestic science classes, re the value of apples from a health standpoint. Apple posters will be displayed on advertising boards of all service stations throughout the Vancouver and New Westminster district.

Railways Co-operate

Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways are throwing their full support behind the Apple Week campaign. Dining car menus are featuring such tasty items as baked apples, either for breakfast, or for lunch and dinner; dessert; apple pie, deep or close-faced, and to which a slab of tangy B.C. cheese may be added — or simply crisp, juicy B.C. apples in the uncooked state as many prefer them.

The railways, which were quick to endorse B.C. apple juice as appetizers for breakfast, lunch and dinner, are again stressing juice as well as the apples themselves in menus which point out the goodness and health-giving vitamins of these wholesome products.

Hotel Vancouver, operated jointly by the railways, the Empress Hotel in Victoria, and the coastal steamers of the two organizations are co-operating, like the dining car organizations, in making a special feature of apples and apple products for the next eight days.

Send 24 Cars

In the past six days, 24 cars of apples have been sent to the coast markets by B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. and further orders are expected in the coming week as the campaign gets underway in earnest.

In the past two weeks, Tree Fruits has sent approximately 90 cars each week to all markets in Canada. This volume of business is encouraging in consideration of the severe winter weather prevalent on the prairies and in the east.

Order of special inspection was a recent order to the little town of Mossbank, Sask. This community normally has a population under 500 persons and would never dream of ordering a full car of apples. But an apple training centre has been established there and has been populated by R.A.F. pilots who are being given their final instruction for night bombing.

These British pilots are to be given Spitzberg apples in many forms as part of their daily diet and it is expected they will appreciate the flavor of the Okanagan apples in eastern Canada there is still a fair supply of Quebec McIntosh and Fameuse apples on hand in cold storage and some Nova Scotia apples are finding their way on to the Montreal market. Four to six weeks will elapse before all storage supplies of eastern apples are cleaned up and the market left free for B.C. supplies, it is expected.

immediate one is that it is providing funds for the Government of this country to carry on our tremendous war effort. The second and equally as important, a point is that such an investment is providing the investor with a definite financial backlog at the time when he will probably need it most, the postwar years.

Not only does the war savings certificate purchaser help the country and increase his own financial resources by saving, but he actually is adding twenty-five per cent to his capital over a period of seven and a half years. One pays today four dollars for a certificate which will be redeemed by the government in seven and a half years for $5.00.

"It is the least we can do, supporting this campaign," said Mr. Worship G. A. McKay on Monday night. "We should be pleased to do everything we can to assist this effort."

The Council meeting on Monday night the aldermen and reporters present each contributed fifty cents to a pool to purchase war stamps to start the ribbon of quarters off on Saturday. Alderman Sutherland won the pool as a result will receive about $5.00 worth

COOKING SALE FOR MILK FUND

To raise funds for the undernourished children's milk fund—that is the purpose which has induced the Rotary Anna to hold a cooking sale at the Orchard City Motors' sales room, starting at ten o'clock on Saturday of this week.

A less worthy objective would not have been considered at this time, but the Rotary Anna with some justification feel that the local children should not be neglected, no matter what calls the war makes on our pursestrings.

A splendid and tasty array of food has been arranged and persons patronizing the sale will achieve two objectives. They will purchase an unusually fine bit of culinary art to take home to their families and they will also have the greater satisfaction of knowing that the purchase price will assist in bringing health to some local youngster.

of war savings stamps. It is understood he is donating a corresponding amount to the Red Cross.
